Something to Celebrate

Dr. Leslie Parrott

It's all over now, this 75th Anniversary Diamond Jubilee Year. And it was all I had dreamed it would be.

There was nostalgia. Looking back to the golden days of everybody's personal years at Olivet.

Ray Moore and Byron Carmony sang about their days at old Olivet. The honorary chairmen for the 75th Year — Carl S. McClain, Dwight J. Strickler, and Naomi R. Larsen — were our faculty bridge from the village of Olivet to the village of Bourbonnais. And at the President's Dinner, Dr. Reed gave a full account of his years at Olivet.

There were achievements to celebrate. The Larsen Fine Arts Center was dedicated. More than fifteen hundred people visited the new Hardy C. Powers President's Home on campus. During the first Homecoming football game there were twin half-time dedications of Ward Field and Snowbarger Athletic Park. Letters of congratulations were received from such civic organizations as the Bourbonnais village board and the local historical society on the continued beautification of the campus, especially Main Street.

And there was a series of wonderful events to attend. The dramatic countdown during the October trustee dinner brought everyone to their feet as the Heritage Mural by Professor Collins was unveiled. The 75th Anniversary Convocation with the colorful academic march got a good response from students. And the 75th Anniversary Homecoming is a story all its own, closing with the great Sunday morning Festival of Worship in Chalfant Hall.

But dreams are not enough. Nostalgia is only good to the degree it clarifies vision. There probably is more confidence in the future for Olivet now than ever before. These hard economic times will also pass. Enrollments will increase again. There will be more development projects such as the Decker Quad and the Les Parrott Physical Education Center. And someday Chalfant Hall will be replaced with a large, beautiful auditorium.

But the most important vision for the year 2007 is an Olivet undiluted in spirit and still committed to its mission of "Education with a Christian Purpose."

Lora Lee Parrott, welcomed Mrs. Hardy C. Powers, along with President Parrott the opening of the Hardy C. Powers' President's Home on campus.

A 75th anniversary of any institution is a year of thank yous and commendations to every founder in some way or another. Dedication of AURORA has always stood for appreciation of a particular outstanding person that year. This year we'd like to wrap up seventy five years in a book and present it to the past presidents and their families.

A. M. Hills 1909-10
Educated at Oberlin and Yale, A. M. Hills was considered a philosopher and theologian. An interview with a committee appointed by Olivet founders made A. M. Hills the first president of Olivet. His scholarly talents as author and speaker made him a great teacher of ministerial students.

E. F. Walker 1912-15
The presidency and person of E. F. Walker was summed up in the dedication of the first issue of the AURORA to him: "Our beloved president whose cheerful self-denial and devotion to the school and whose faith and holy life are worthy of emulation."

B. F. Haynes 1916-17
B. F. Haynes was born and educated in Tennessee. Before his presidency at Olivet, Haynes was editor of various holiness publications, including the "Herald of Holiness." After serving as a pastor for a number of years, B. F. Haynes was president of two colleges and served as Dean of the Theological Department of Peniel University.

J. E. L. Moore 1919-22
J. E. L. Moore served presidency at two colleges previous to Olivet. While president of Olivet he inaugurated a financial campaign to liquidate its financial obligations. This campaign inspired Olivet's whole movement with a great vision. Moore also brought about many advances in Olivet along educational and spiritual lines.

N. W. Sanford 1919-26
The dedication of the decennial number of the AURORA described their president N. W. Sanford as "at once a sincere friend, a faithful teacher, and an equitable administrator." After serving for sometime in the presidency, N. W. Sanford wrote ". . . there has been a clearness of purpose and a steadiness of execution conductive to the best results."

T. W. Willingham 1926-37
T. W. Willingham's presidency is noted most for his great ability as financier. Through his earnest labor and sacrifice Olivet survived a financial crisis. But allowing no pessimistic view to over-ride he wrote that through all of the hardships and struggles "there has been victory and progress."

A. L. Parrott 1937-45
During the presidency of A. L. Parrott, Olivet experienced a disastrous fire. However, A. L. Parrott was possessed of a contagious vision for Olivet. He moved the college to Kankakee and brought the college completely out of debt.

Grover VanDuyn 1945-48
During the presidency of Grover VanDuyn the size of Olivet's campus was increased with the purchase of Goodwin Hall and additional acreage south of the original campus. He wrote of the students: "Our students are motivated by an inner conviction for service."

Selden D. Kelley 1948-49
After 30 years of successful pastoral ministry Selden D. Kelley became Olivet's president. His service was shortened by a fatal heart attack in 1949, but his spiritual impact was strong.

Harold W. Reed 1949-75
Harold Reed proved his belief in Olivet past, present and future through his many years of service. His years as president saw a growth of physical facilities and progress in academic excellence.

Leslie Parrott 1975-
The presidency of Leslie Parrott was marked by growth in campus facilities and the thrust in student enrollment. His strong spiritual leadership encouraged an atmosphere of Christian growth and maturity.

Orientation Prepares Freshmen

Incoming students became better prepared for their first fall term by attending one of the two orientations held on campus during the summer. Two weekends were set aside to equip these students for the enrollment process and campus life.

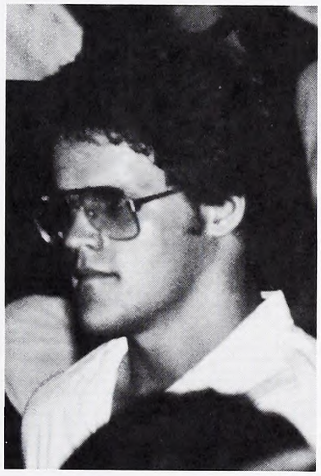

One of the major happenings during orientation was the "room rush." Many students stood in line for hours waiting to obtain the room of their choice. Living quarters for this "home away from home" seemed important to those planning to settle in here.

Once school started, freshmen had the chance to get reacquainted with friends they had met at orientation and to get to know new ones at a party held for them on September 1.

Seniors Triumph in Ollies Follies

Aah September!! Summer has been temporarily postponed, and school lurks just around the corner. With its inescapable arrival comes the unbearable heat on fourth-floor Burke, Indian Summer afternoons spent studying under a tree, long walks at dusk, and who could forget — Ollies Follies!

For two days each September, studies are put on ice and everyone joins in the festivities. On Friday night we contested to see which class could cheer loudest between reels of "The Nutty Professor."

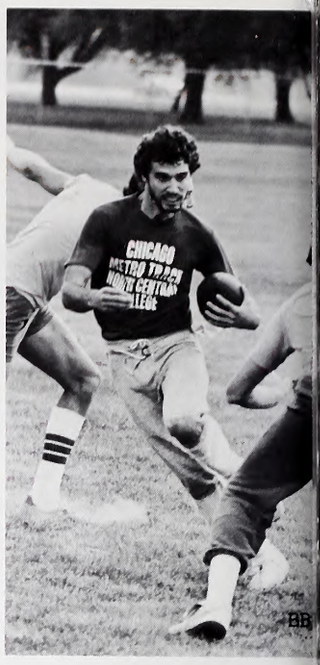

Saturday was passed playing football, volleyball, spitting seeds, hula hooping, slurping rootbeer, racing around in shopping carts, playing Egyptian pyramid builders, and pulling tug-of-war losers through a mud pit. Then, in the evening we entertained each other with songs, magic, and skits.

Overall, the seniors finished first, with the sophomores in second. Juniors finished third even though they did win the skit competition. And, freshmen came in last even though they were victorious in tug-of-war.

Clubs Set Up and Recruit on Club Day

Students who entered Ludwig on September 14 found a variety of booths set up in the lobby area. Each booth represented effort put forth by a club in design and decoration. Club members worked to make students aware of their clubs and sought new members.

Members also worked to make their booth judged as winner of Club Day. The booths were judged on creativity, originality, relevance to objectives, overall appearance, and design. The team of judges included faculty, staff, and students.

The winner was Ministerial Fellowship, with Ski Club coming in second.

Clubs Raise Money Through Late Skate

In order to carry out planned activities, many clubs, organizations, and classes sought ways to raise money. One such fund-raiser was the well-known late-skates.

Late-skates were held throughout the year by a number of organizations. Some organizations developed their own theme and atmosphere for this twelve midnight to two a.m. excursion. Such organizations as WRA, the Senior Class, the Junior Class, Business Club, Social Committee, the Sophomore Class, and the Ski Club took advantage of this opportunity to raise funds.

Participants in late-skating experienced late-night fun and off-campus activity. Late-skates gave students a chance for physical exercise, social life, and a break from studies.

Orpheus Presents Annual Event

Celebration 50 was the theme for the 1982 Orpheus Variety Show. The entire presentation was centered around a birthday party for Orpheus' fiftieth year. Skits were performed, songs were delivered, and laughs were abundant. Each member of Orpheus Choir was encouraged to somehow participate in this annual event.

Members of Orpheus tried out for a variety of positions in the show, and displayed their talents in diversified areas. After the selection of skits and numbers to be performed, practices were held and finishing touches added before the grand presentations on Thursday and Friday evenings, October 14 and 15.

Four-year Orpheus member Sheryl Bitner described the variety show as "one of the most exciting times of Orpheus." She explained that it was a "time of getting to know each other's talents," and that being better acquainted in such a way aided in other performances the choir held throughout the year.

Junior Class Changes Goodwin into Haunted House

One of the most time-consuming and difficult projects taken on by a class each year is that taken on by the Junior Class every October — the haunted house. This year's junior class was able to use Goodwin Hall, the building previously used by the music department, for its project.

Planning began in September with actual construction beginning around October first. Distinguishing their house from haunted houses of the past, the emphasis was on creativity instead of gore. Over 120 juniors manned Goodwin each of the nights the haunted house was held, October 29 and 30. Students were first treated to a horror film and refreshments, then were led on a tour through the house.

Homecoming Parade

The largest homecoming parade yet presented by Olivet was seen by the seventy-fifth anniversary homecoming parade crowd. Put together by Homecoming Chairman Selden Marquart, the eighty-four entry parade included twelve bands and series of antique cars besides floats and other entries from classes and clubs.

Seniors won grand prize, featuring the themes "Something to Celebrate" and "Bridging 75 Years." The float was led by a horse-drawn carriage. Two sections of the float were connected by a bridge. The first section featured a drawing of Olivet's first classroom building. The second section included a birthday cake and a drawing of new Olivet buildings.

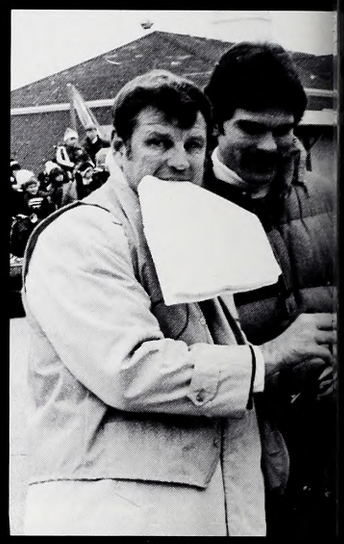

First place for classes was won by the class of 1984. Their theme was "Building our future is something to celebrate."

The Art club won first place for clubs. Their float was a re-make of Noah's Ark, complete with animals. "Seventy-five years, and Olivet is still afloat."

75th Year Celebrated

"Something to Celebrate" was the theme of homecoming and, with Olivet celebrating its 75th year, it suited the occasion well. Record numbers of alumni and parents crowded the community for the weekend of events. Some of them included concerts, athletic events, reunions and such. "O" Awards were given to Rev. Gary Henecke and Dr. George Dunbar for outstanding service.

Christmas Transforms Campus

Everything seemed to transform on campus the weekend of the Christmas banquet. The social committee got its hands on Ludwig to decorate for the Christmas Party. No one would have guessed it was the same place students go to play Pac-Man and eat grinders. Girls were clad in red, green and black, and the guys made major overhauls on their attire and manners. The transformation was sudden and everyone was back to eating grinders on Monday, but the weekend will long be remembered.

Quad: Center of Activity

It was the center of activity on campus. It was walked on by students every day. It was the place to meet a new friend or meet with old ones. It was in the midst of the main campus buildings — it was the quad.

The quad was that portion of open space between Benner Library and Ludwig Center where a number of activities were held throughout the year. Some of them were organized, such as outdoor concerts and bonfires; some were spur-of-the-moment, such as snowball fighting, frisbee tossing, and mud sliding.

Campus life would have been quite limited if not for the quad. It provided a place for relaxing, talking, and socializing.

SAGA Caters to Students Socializing

"What kind of soup is that?" "Monte Cristo Sandwiches again?" "Looks like the sandwich line for me." Although comments like these ran rampant during almost every mealtime, dinner lines were still long and places to sit were still sometimes hard to find. That's because, besides the Redroom and the library, Saga was the place to socialize on campus. It was the one place where each student knew he could find his "scope", his friends, and the kid who owed him money — everyone has to eat.

Although it took only approximately twenty minutes (give or take five minutes) to go through the line and twenty minutes to eat, many people spent as much as an hour or more just sitting in Saga, especially during the winter months. The time was spent sipping tea, catching up on the latest news, and trying to figure out where the hidden faces of Christ were located in the mural on the cafeteria wall. After the clock was taken down from above the lines and replaced with a smaller clock in a less visible spot, track of time was really lost.

Sometimes, on special occasions, there was even entertainment. Mudsliding in the quad proved to be a spectator sport for those lucky enough to be sitting near the north windows. Those sitting in the middle had the best seats for the announcements given from the steps and the best view of the door that everyone had to go in and out of. Not to be outdone, south-side sitters were the witnesses of many a scuffle between those wondering just where the sandwich line did begin.

Although many a student had the "missing mom's cooking" blues throughout the year, mealtimes were not just the time of day set aside for eating. They gave students the chance to socialize and unwind — something all needed.

Service Begins Celebration

An academic march preceded a proclamation of celebration by Dr. Leslie Parrott during a special chapel service held October 6, 1982. This date marked the official seventy-fifth birthday of Olivet Nazarene College.

The message for this eventful chapel service was delivered by Dr. V. H. Lewis, Senior General Superintendent in the Church of the Nazarene. In his message Dr. Lewis stressed the importance of having "a cause," and he commended Olivet for its cause.

During this celebration three honorary doctorate degrees were presented. These degrees were awarded to Professor Harvey A. Collins, head of Olivet's art department; Rev. Clarence Clement Jacobs, pastor of New York's Brooklyn First Church of the Nazarene; and Rev. Ted R. Lee, Vice-President of Development at Olivet.

There's Snowtime Like Snowtime

Although the snow that fell was less substantial than in years past, a few inches of that well-known white stuff could always serve to break the monotony. The campus that tended to get old after awhile could always be transformed into a different, less hectic one after a quiet winter storm. Besides the change in scenery, snow also offered a change in activities. Possibilities included snowman building, sledding, and even snowball throwing.

Students Conduct Prayer Band

Every Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 6:15 a dedicated group of students met in Kelley Prayer Chapel to hear fellow students sing, testify, and preach in special services known as Prayer Band. Vice-President of Spiritual Life Les Parrott III was in charge of constructing the year's programs. Special speakers appeared on several occasions, two of them being Rev. Ted Lee, speaking at the first Prayer Band of the year, and Prof. Harvey Collins, explaining the mural he painted for the prayer chapel. However, for the most part, Prayer Band was conducted by and for the student population.

Spiritual Life

One of the best known organizations on the campus of Olivet was Spiritual Life, headed by Les Parrott III. The organization also was able to reach out in ministry to local churches through the four divisions of Spiritual Life: Life Song, Disciples in Drama, Evangels, and Sunrise.

Life Song, directed by Tim Kellerman, met the needs of local churches on Olivet's educational zone in many ways. Teams held weekend revivals and helped out local churches by sending a quartet or trio, a speaker, and a Sunday School teacher to minister to congregations.

Greg Clark directed Disciples in Drama. This ministry is one of puppet skits and drama features presented to churches and church organizations locally. Students involved were able to use theatrical talents for the glory of God.

The specialized ministry of Evangels reached to Kankakee area nursing homes, jails, boys' home, and mental health center. This division of Spiritual Life, under the direction of Mark Jennings, also had Sunday morning children's church responsibilities.

Directed by Lane McPherson, Sunrise gave students the opportunity to become involved in missions through contributions during chapel offerings. This ministry provided students preparing for the mission field a chance for fellowship and attempted to keep a missionary emphasis among students.

As a whole, the ministry of Spiritual Life was multi-faceted. It reached students and was able to go beyond and minister to those in surrounding areas of Olivet.

Lewis and Strickland Visit Campus

Throughout the school year there were several times when the books and socializing were put aside and spiritual life was emphasized. Two significant times for this during the fall semester were opening convention and fall revival.

Opening convention was held September 3-5 and featured Rev. Holland Lewis, an alumnus of Olivet. Lewis was featured at services held in chapel on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday, and evening services at College Church Wednesday through Sunday. Providing special music for the services was Mrs. Mary Lewis, wife of the speaker.

Chapel

Three days a week, students and faculty gathered together in Chalfant Hall for services commonly known to Olivetians as chapel.

Chapel served several purposes. It was an excellent time for all-school announcements and the completion of surveys. However, the most important purpose served by chapel was that it was time set aside for the entire Olivet community to worship together.

Various faculty and staff members appeared as pulpit guests, besides the many special programs brought to chapel by several different organizations. Special guests ranged from former professional athlete Jerry Lucas and his wife Sheralee to saxophonist Eugene Russeau of the University of Indiana.

Football

Olivet's football team had its best start in the history of the program in1982. After winning their first three outings the Tigers broke into the NAIA top 20, with a number 20 ranking. The next week, as ONC extended its winning streak to 4-0 the Tigers climbed to 17th spot in the national standings. ONC's national recognition actually began in the 1981 season. Head Coach Richardson remarked, "we started to gain the respect of other teams and coaches, on the state and national level, last year when we closed our season by upsetting Anderson, then the third ranked team in the nation." ONC finished the 1982 season with the best record in the history of the program, 7-3. The Tigers received votes in the post-season national ranking balloting, but did not break back into the top 20.

The ONC gridiron was graced with an abundance of individual talent this season. Nine Tigers received NAIA District 20 honors, five of those players were named to the NAIA District 20 first team. Mike Conway received the prestigious award of being elected to first All-American team. Tim Johnson and Doug Gallup both were chosen honorable mention All-America.

From the sidelines, Coach Richardson was named NAIA District 20 Coach-of-the-Year. Tim Johnson quickly became known as "Truck" on ONC campus and the local papers began talking about the "ONC Trucking Company." Truck certainly earned his nickname as he became ONC's first 1000 yard rusher, ending the season among the top 10 scorers in the nation with 15 touchdowns. "Breaking 62 records showed real growth in the program," Richardson remarked. These efforts paid off for the Tigers as they ended the season the NAIA District 20 champs.

After a slow start, the ONC Tigers fought back to finish with a record of 8 wins and 17 losses.

It was the final home game when the Tigers showed their best effort. Olivet downed Concordia 90 to 61. The Tigers looked very good in this outing and in this Coach Ralph Hodge was pleased. "I feel this was our best performance of the year. We played good defense, got some strong rebounds and were able to run our fast break like we had wanted all year. We did those things we were capable of doing — we executed," Hodge commented.

Much of the team's success can be attributed to John Allhands, the junior center from Watseka, IL. He averaged 15 points a game and 8 rebounds.

Strong inside help came from the team's lone senior, Skyler Hasselbring. Skyler scored nearly 15 points a game and pulled down 6 rebounds. Hodge said, "Skyler's very hard-nosed. He's strong and very aggressive."

Though this season held some disappointment, it must be viewed as a rebuilding year.

This year proved to be a frustrating year for the Tiger kickers. At the outset of the season expectations were high for a good year, but some early season injuries and several close losses proved to be a stumbling block. "The early injuries and our overall inexperience took its toll," said three year letterman Tim Bardy.

One bright spot for the Tigers was their strong defense. Senior goalkeeper Bill Cooke led the stubborn defensive team. Cooke was named Most Valuable Player and was named to the NAIA All-District and NIIC All-Conference squads.

Junior fullback Dan Wiens also received All-Conference honors. Sophomore Dan Phipps was voted the team's Most Improved Award.

It was a disappointing year, but the experience gained will be of great value in the future. This disappointment will make the young Tigers hungry for a banner 1983 season. Losing seniors Bill Cooke and Jeff Brown will be difficult, but the framework is in place and the Tigers will be ready to meet the challenge.

Women's Tennis

Inexperience took its toll on the Women's Tennis team this year. However, lots of young talent will make the squad strong in the future.

The highlight of this year's season was a win over Rockford College to give the team a fourth place finish in Conference play. It was the only win the lady netters could garner as they lost numerous "down to the wire" matches.

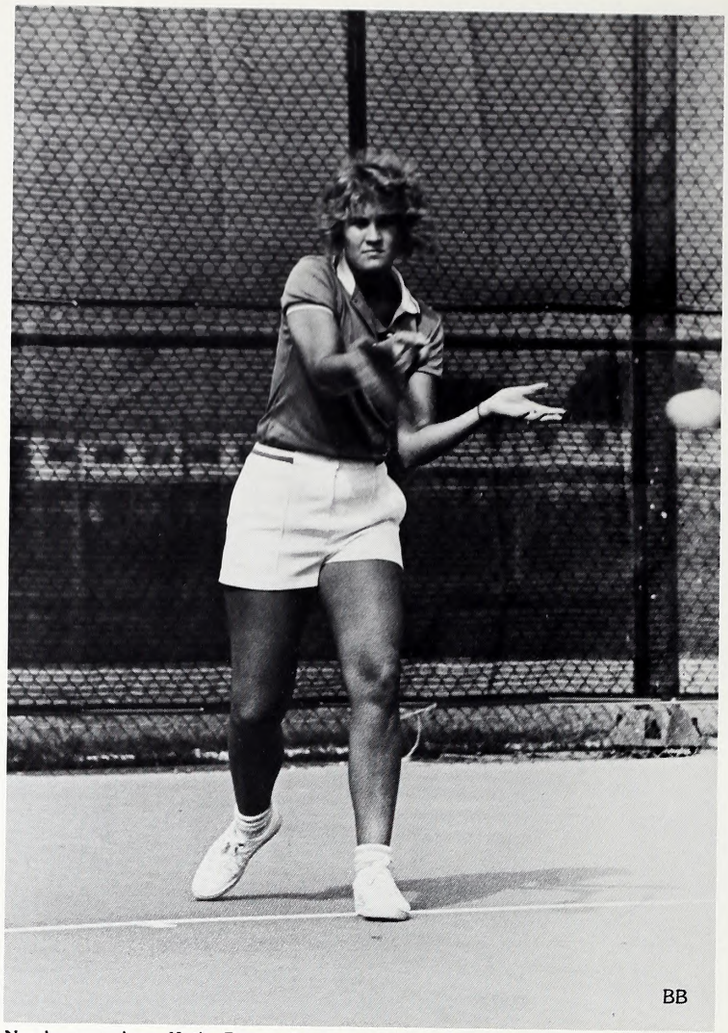

The team was led by the first year coaching duo of Nancy Kendall and Rod Carpenter. Reflecting on the season, Coach Kendall noted, "I really enjoyed working with the girls this year. There's a lot of potential for next year."

Playing number one and number two singles were Sophomore Kathy Rector and Freshman Susan Gilroy respectively. They formed the number one doubles team which accumulated the most victories throughout the season.

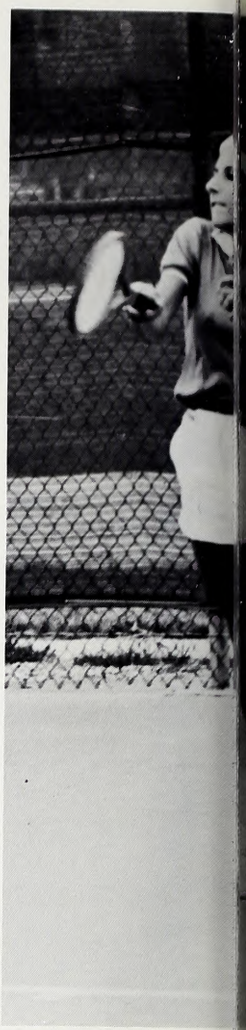

The only senior was four year varsity player Mindy Vaught. The rest of the squad was rounded out by a strong core of sophomores and freshmen.

Coach Carpenter said, "Considering the level of talent we had, our record was a real disappointment. But the experience we gained this year should really help the girls to pull off those tough matches next year." The ground work has been laid for success in the future of Women's Tennis.

Volleyball

One only had to attend one women's volleyball game to have been caught up in the enthusiasm of this year's squad. The team spirit and unity added an exciting element to the team's performance.

Though faced with stiff competition the women were still able to finish the season with a winning record. They compiled a record of 13 wins and 12 losses. Under the leadership of Coach Brenda Patterson, the team highlighted their season with a second place finish at the NCCAA District competition.

Only one player, Veteran Lanette Sessink, will graduate. This insures that a more experienced squad will pick up where this year's squad left off. The determination and dedication of this year's team promises more winning seasons in the future.

Tiger Wrestlers Show Heart

"Considering all the problems we've faced, I'm surprised we've stayed together as well as we have," reflected Athletic Director and Wrestling Coach Larry Watson.

The Tiger wrestling squad overcame numerous obstacles this season that would have left most teams in shambles.

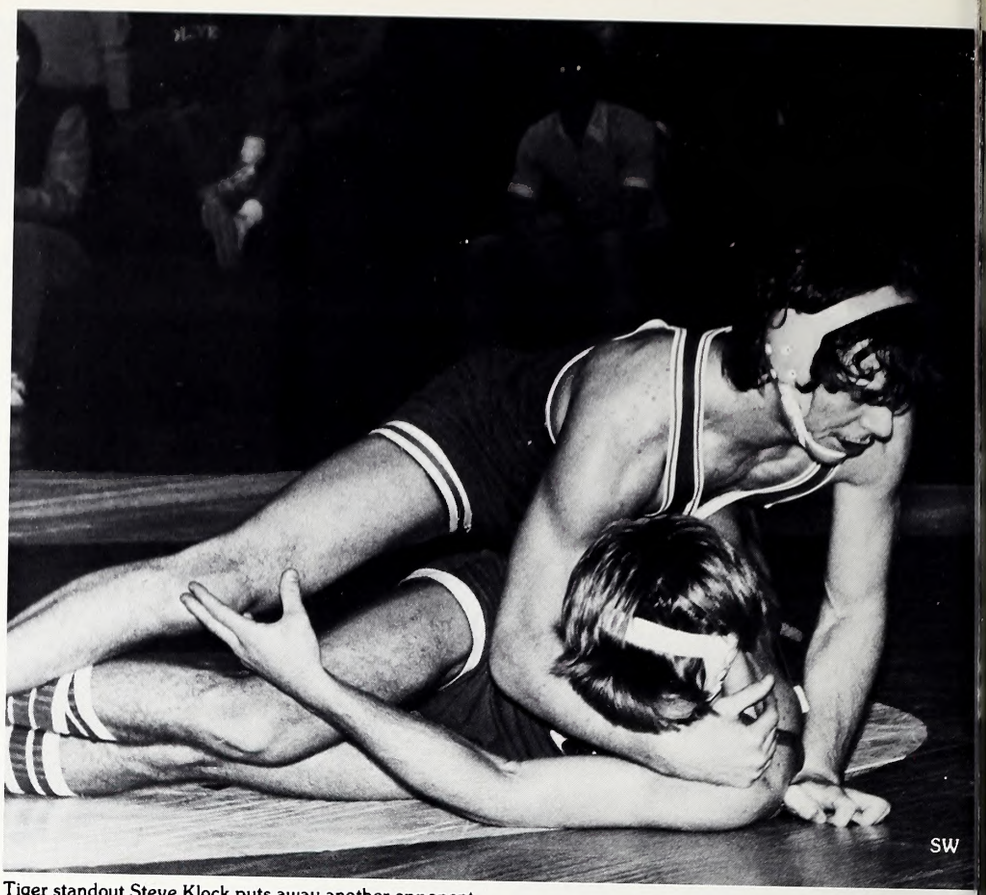

The team stayed together to produce a good season with excellent prospects for the future. The final dual match record was 10 wins and 4 losses.

Several individuals contributed outstanding personal performances to the team effort. One was Carl Hill, the tough new lightweight. Coach Watson boasts that, "Carl is going to be awesome." He also praised Hill for his dynamic and bold Christian witness, "Carl has a bright future here."

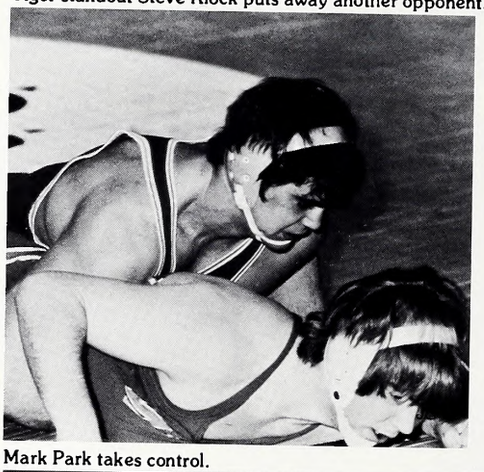

Another top wrestler is Dave Jennings. Last year he won the Christian Nationals in his weight division. Watson says no one works harder or is a finer representative of the team. "Dave is everything you wanted in an athlete and more."

The final and perhaps the brightest Tiger standout is Steve Klock. His clever counter-attack style has frustrated many opponents. Watson explains that because of Steve's ability and incredible sense of balance, a move that would take down 99% of other wrestlers won't work on him. Klock's potential is unlimited — three tournament MVP awards affirm his dominance.

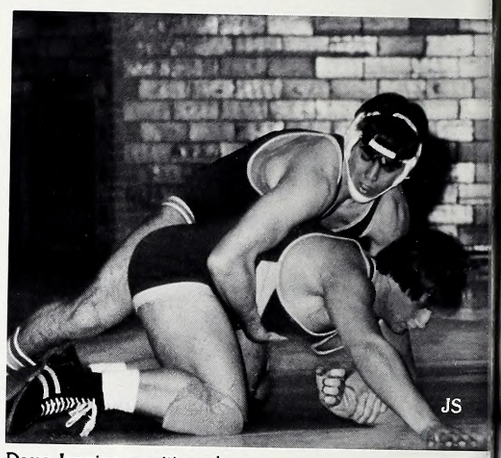

Coach Watson is confident that his team, toughened by adversity, will be extremely good next year — all the wrestlers will be returning looking to improve on what was begun this year.

Stiff Competition Tell on Men's Baseball Record

The 1982 Baseball season was one of development for the future. The Tigers did not have a single player who played in the same position in which he did last year. Coupled with the fact that they played the toughest schedule ever, they put together a record of 10-22-1.

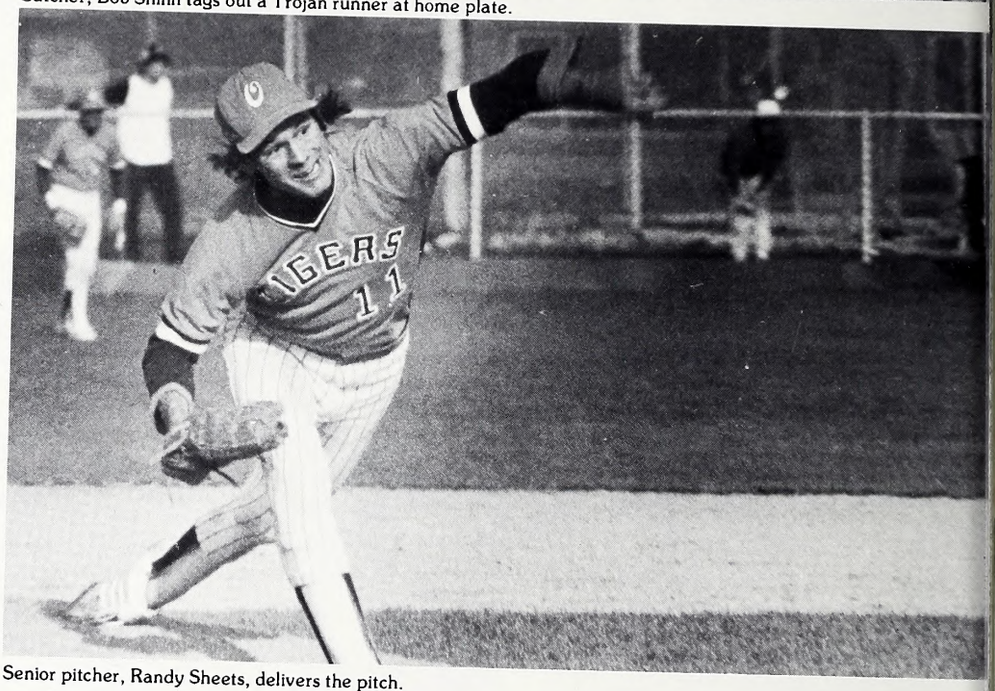

Olivet showed their true potential on their Florida trip when they lost to Florida Atlantic University 7-6 and 4-2. Florida Atlantic was ranked 8th nationally in the NAIA. Another highlight was playing the Class "A" Farm Team of the New York Yankees'. The prior season they had the best minor league record in professional baseball.

A record which was thought to be untouchable for a few years was broken by Ernie Vandersteen. The mark for the most hits in a season (43), was upset by Ernie in a 3 for 4 game against George Williams College.

Team leadership came from senior Darrell Slack. Slack was chosen as All-District his junior year and has been a three time All-Conference selection. The winner of the Ace Pitcher Award was Darrell Slack. Ernie Vandersteen won the Best Hitter Award.

Men's Track Reaches New Heights

Outstanding individual performances combined with a solid team effort led to a successful season for the 1982 Track Team. While a conference championship eluded the squad, they did capture the prestigious Elmhurst Relays — a first for the ONC Track Team.

It took both field and track event successes to accomplish the higher level of performance established last season. The backbone of the track events was the 400 Meter Relay team of Jeff Killion, Mitch Combs, Tim Johnson, and Mark Outcalt. They broke the record for this relay and proved to be the most consistent track event.

The MVP award went to freshman Mike Ulrich. Mike rewrote the records for both the 10,000 and 5,000 Meter Races. Besting his own record, he posted a time of 31:44 in the 10,000 and beat the record in the 5,000 by running a 15:17. Mike will be a vital asset for the team in the future.

Sophomore David Malone showed talent in both fields and track events. David was the top point earner for the second season in a row. Malone broke his own High Hurdle record by running a time of 15:8. In addition, he proved to be the team's top High Jumper.

Another record fell at the hands of Scott Fisher. With a Shot Put throw of 42'9", Scott goes into the record books as ONC's best.

These record setters were supported by a fine cas of tracksters to round out the much improved team. Coach Hodge looks to next season with enthusiasm as all team members will be returning.

Strong Season for Women's Softball

"Positive attitudes from strong players," is how Coach Brenda Patterson described the 1981-82 ONC Women's Softball Team. The squad of 12 women overcame a slow start to compile a record of 13 wins and 11 losses.

Each year the women's softball league travels South during Spring Break for additional competition. During the 1982 season, the ladies travelled to eastern Arkansas and Missouri while taking on a total of seven strong teams along the way. Opponents of the ONC squad included Southwest Baptist, John Brown University, and Crowder Junior College. They returned home with a respectable 2-5 record against the already practiced Southerners.

The team graduated four seniors: Michelle Hicks, Elaine Morrison, Carol Chainey, and Lanette Sessink. With a strong core of the team returning, the women's softball team should be headed for more success. The following players were named to the All-Conference team: Bonnie McKnight (Bonnie was also chosen as the team's Most Valuable Player), Jennifer Craig (the designated hitter), Carol Chainey (the team's top pitcher), and Lanette Sessink.

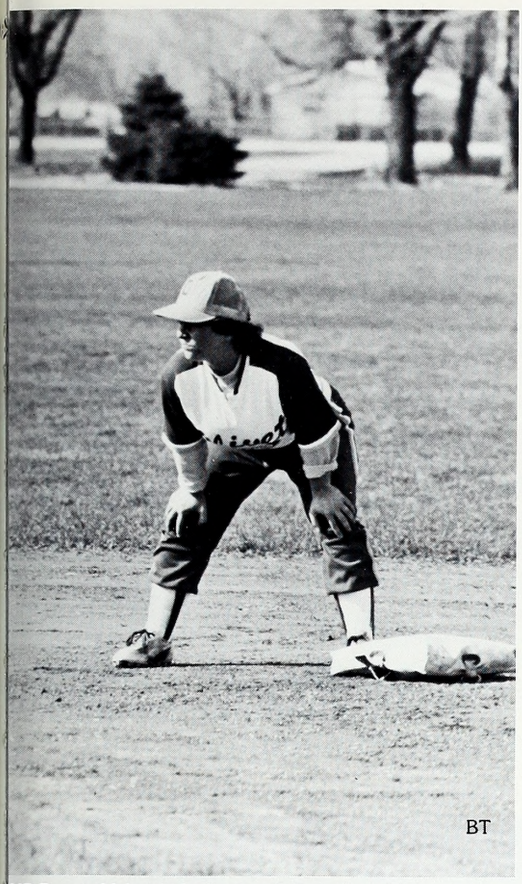

While the overall record of the team was lower than hoped for, the team showed a winner's look. As Coach Patterson said, "There's a lot more to winning than the statistics."

Tiger Tennis Back on Top

Three factors combined to enable the ONC Tennis Team to recapture the NIIC Championship: a more experienced team, the return of Ken Carpenter, and the leadership of first year coach Terry MacKay. The underrated squad stormed through the regular season and capped off the successful season by winning the conference tournament. This made them the only ONC team to win a conference championship in 1981-82.

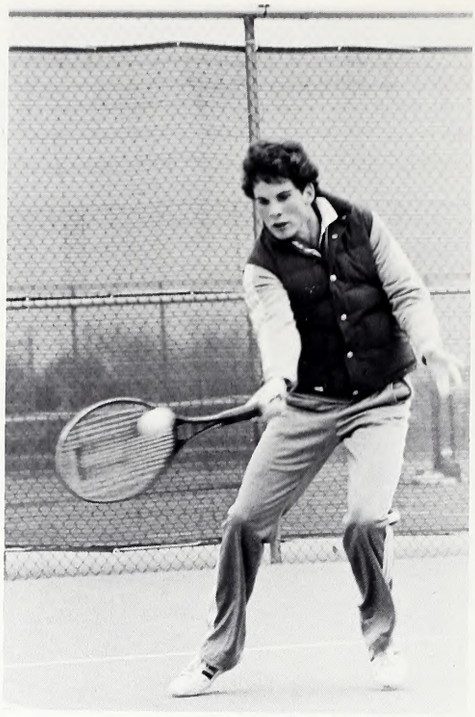

The team's top player, Rod Carpenter, took the Most Valuable Player honor. Through three seasons of singles play, he has never lost a conference match.

Second year player, Paul Horton, won his second straight conference championship at the number five flight. Combining singles and doubles victories, Paul had the best overall record for the season. He teamed with Ken Carpenter for doubles competition.

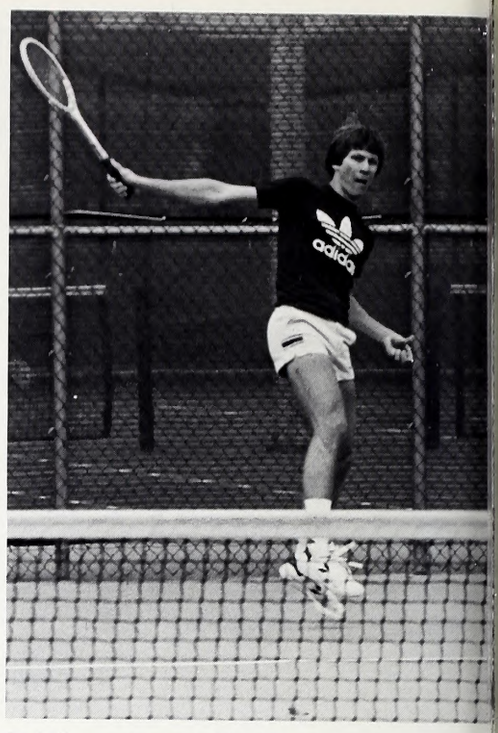

Other veteran letter earners included Don Meyer, Monty Lobb, and Curt Crocker. The addition of two new team members, Steve Klock and Kent Meyer, gave the team tremendous depth.

The discipline brought by Coach MacKay was a key element to the team's success. The previous five years had seen five different coaches. The graduation of only one player left the team with a solid core upon which another winning season should be built.

Indeed, the ONC Tennis Team is back on top. And the way things look, they intend to stay there.

Junior Varsity

The Junior Varsity Basketball Squad gave Tiger fans plenty of excitement and entertainment this season. Under the direction of first year coach, Mark Fleming, the team posted a record of 8 wins against 5 losses.

The main goal of JV competition is to prepare players for varsity play. Thus the squad learned the same offenses and defenses as varsity. According to fleming, the offense is so complex and has so many variables that it takes half the season to fully learn it. Fleming prepared his players well. In fact, several of them were called on to see extensive varsity action this season.

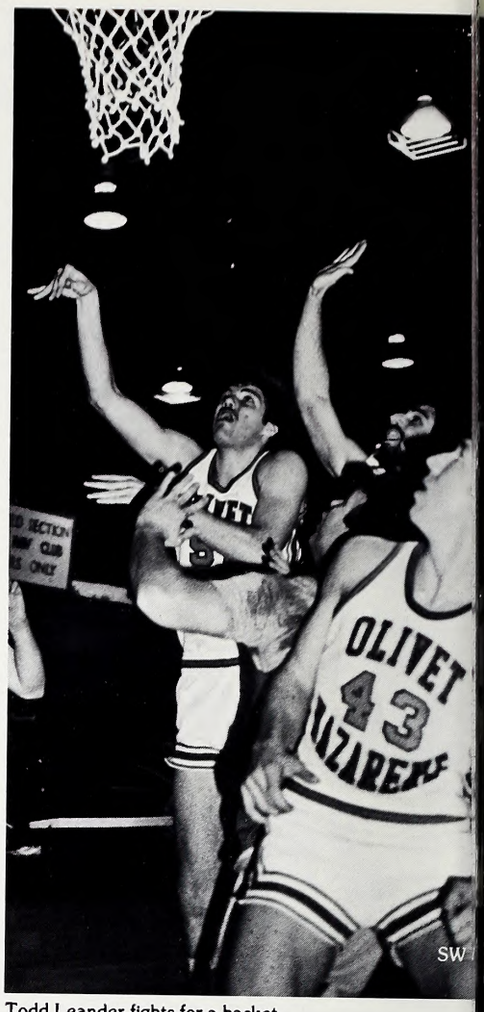

Several players contributed outstanding personal efforts to the team. Jeff and Greg Harrell were both strong performers this season. Also, Todd Leander and Tim Miller pitched in valuable efforts.

While the loss of two games on last shot plays were a disappointment, the Tigers did end the season on a strong note. After suffering a loss to IBC on our home court, the squad avenged the loss by overcoming a 10 point deficit to edge IBC by 3 on their home court.

In the final analysis, Fleming did a fine job of molding the various players into a team and preparing them for varsity play. This should be a big boost to next year's squad.

Intramurals Provide a Much Needed Study Break

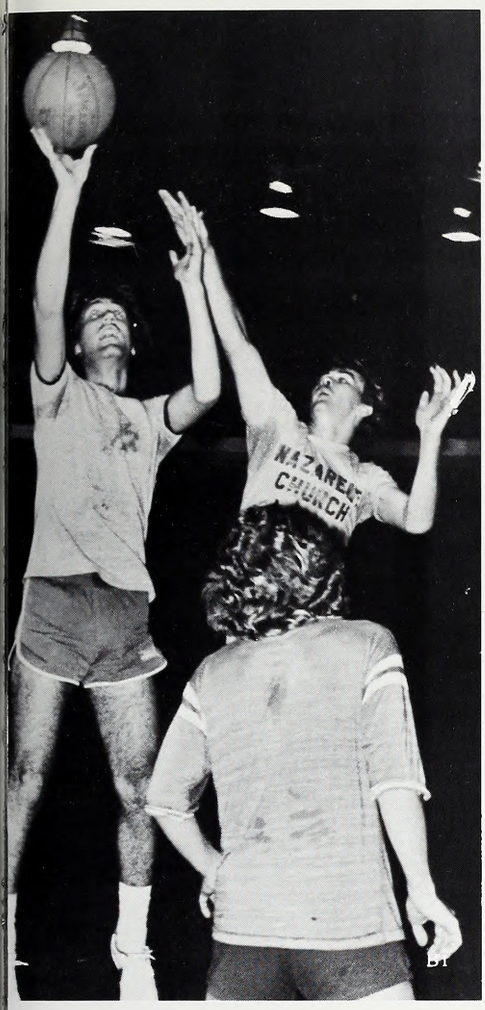

After long hours of study, many students found that participation in intramural sports made a nice study break. The wide selection of activities provided something for everyone, men and women. There was a high participation rate this year in the program. Vigorous physical exercise is viewed as an important part of college life and this is made available to all students through the intramural program. Sports Information Director Gary Griffin headed up the many faceted program.

Orpheus

Not only was this the year for the college as a whole to celebrate, but several inner celebrations occurred that deserve to be mentioned. This was the year that marked the fiftieth birthday of Orpheus. Orpheus was formed in 1932 by the late Walter B. Larsen. Shortly after his death Mrs. Naomi Larsen took the position of Orpheus director. She served until 1973, and was followed by Dr. George Dunbar, the present director.

Orpheus was made up of students of many different majors who tried out for the choir. The choir traveled throughout the educational zone giving concerts. They also attended Praise Gathering in Indianapolis, visited local churches, had a concert at Homecoming, and presented a variety show for the student body. The purpose of Orpheus was to minister to others through their music, and they did indeed do that.

Concert Band

Under the direction of Harlow Hopkins, the Concert Band had another good year. Throughout the year the band performed during chapel, in churches across Olivets' educational zone and held a Homecoming concert. During the Homecoming concert the band alumni were given the opportunity to play with the band. Fun activities such as a car wash and a retreat were also held by the band members. The band's year was brought to a close by playing at commencement.

Viking Male Chorus

"To Thee We Sing" was the motto for the Viking Male Chorus as they traveled across the educational zone and to Canada. The chorus is made up of Olivet men who are interested in singing. # A Room Away From Home

For many years students have vacated the comforts of home for a nine month stay in a dorm room. Four white walls, two beds, two desks and a tile floor were left to the decorative imaginations of the room's occupants. Some chose to live with few modifications, while others, given a few hours, performed a miracle.

Reflecting personalities and interests, rooms were transformed into tropical paradises complete with plants and aquatic fish, or sports museums with high school trophies, artifacts and posters of favorite hero-athletes. Stereos, refrigerators, and carpeting were necessities. Little details such as candles, plaques, flowers, rocking chairs, and wicker helped to relax the atmosphere — home on a small scale.

Associated Student Government

Associated Student Government, the nucleus of the student body, had the task of organizing, leading, and controlling the campus activities of student concern. # Aurora

The Aurora is a somewhat unusual organization. It was pretty much open to anyone that wanted to be a part of it. Like all of the other clubs this one took up a lot of time, but never charged dues or had required meetings. We had some takers. The Aurora is the yearbook. We found out stories about you and wrote them, with the use of a camera. We snapped your pictures, your friends' pictures, and our pictures. We skipped classes, and stayed up late sometimes all night to meet our deadlines, but most of all we had fun. . . . and that's the way it was . . .

Orpheus Reunion

Homecoming was a wonderful time for reunions, not only for visiting the old alma mater, but also a time for old friends and family to be together. A special reunion that took place during Homecoming was that of Orpheus Choir and its past members. During Saturday afternoon the current members of Orpheus practiced with Orpheus alumni for the evening concert. One of the favorite songs of all of the members was "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God." They sang it along with several other songs. Mrs. Naomi Larsen directed this reunion concert.

Added attractions that made the concert special was to see how many families were in Orpheus. Several students who were in the choir this past year had parents or grandparents or brothers and sisters who were once members of Orpheus.

When thoughts are joined with restless feelings . . .

When words are received not beyond what they say . . .

When the heart is revealed and accepted by another . . .

Then I am not alone.

— Les Parrott III

Today I lived for yesterday
it brought me where I am.
Sometimes I live for tomorrow,
as long as it always comes.

But I realized that yesterday only has value
as it affects today.

And someday I'll learn that tomorrow is not a goal in itself, but only a process that brings me to today.

I've lived today for yesterday,
and tomorrow I'll live for today, but right now, I'll live . . .

— Les Parrott III

Traveling Groups

Olivet was represented in Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, and Wisconsin this past year by four public relations traveling groups. Two male quartets, The Journeymen and The Olivetians, and two female trios, Kindred Spirit and New Life, ministered in youth camps, camp meetings, district assemblies, missionary conventions, NYI conventions, youth rallies, and local churches. Their main focus of ministry was singing, but many times other ministries were performed.

The groups were called upon to head recreational teams, present skits and devotionals, and counsel one-on-one with young people. The ministry of these groups was not limited to teenagers alone, however, With local church concerts and varied music styles, each group was able to reach old and young alike.

Larsen Dedication

The long-awaited opening of the Larsen Fine Arts Center finally arrived this fall, and was properly honored with a dedication ceremony on February 17, 1983.

Dr. Parrott began the program with a prayer of invocation, followed by performances from the Olivet faculty, the Concert Band, and Orpheus Choir. One of the selections performed by Orpheus, "My God Will Supply All Your Needs," was arranged by Ovid Young and consisted of several of Mrs. Naomi Larsen's favorite scriptures. In addition, Dr. Parrott presented Dr. Harlow Hopkins, Chairman of the Division of Fine Arts, with two 24 karat gold keys for the Fine Arts Center. The ceremony was held in the new Kresge Auditorium. This Fine Arts Center is appropriately in memory of Walter Burdick Larsen and his wife, Naomi Ruth Larsen, whose shared ministry in music on this campus and in the community have blessed the lives of many people.

Panel One

The major subject is the burning administration building on the old Olivet campus south of Danville. Until that disastraus day in November 1939, it housed classrooms, library, laboratories and affices far administratars and faculty.

The histaric camp meeting tabernacle at the bottom of this panel played a majar rale in campus life. In the upper left is the "Old Lincoln Hause," in which Abraham Lincoln aften spent the night during his days as a traveling lawyer. This house served the college as a dormitory for a time.

The old schaal hause at the right dates back to the earliest days af the college. In frant af this building are twa cars which were typical of the days when classes were held there.

Panel Two

This panel features the Benner Library and Learning Resource Center, highlighting specialized areas in its facilities: WKOC radio station, computer science, research baaks and index cards, a portrait of a technician operating equipment representing the television and communications area

Also in this panel are Wisner Hall for Nursing Education graced by a portrait of a young nursing student, College Church af the Nazarene, the Milby Clack Tower and Kelley Prayer Chapel.

Panel Three

Sparts activities are emphasized in this panel: basketball represented by three life-size players, Birchard Field Hause, Ward Field with its stadium seating far faatball and track, a growling Tiger — Olivet's mascot, and the beautiful Bedfard limestone sign at the plaza entrance to the campus. The praudly waving flags in addition ta the United States flag at the center represent the four states af Olivet's educational regian — fram left, Michigan, Wisconsin, Indiana and Illinois.

Ponel Four

This central panel is the focol point for the entire murol. In its center is the lorge circle of the college seal. Inside the circle is Burke Administrotion Building . . . the heart of the campus. Graduates of the college are shown in front, representing men and women from eoch decode and olso severol specializotions including business, the preaching ministry, teaching and sports.

The lamps of the front of Burke Administration Building ore disployed on either side. Eoch lomp, representing knowledge; has the lighted side of its round bose on the inside, closest to the college emblem. This suggests thot the source of our light and inspirotion comes from the heort of the college and its theme "Education with o Christion Purpose."

Panel Five

The awesome tornado of 1963 dominates this ponel. Although it brought extensive domoge to five college buildings, none of the damage hos been illustrated, since most of the buildings were fully restored.

Ponel Six

The natural sciences ore represented in this panel. At the center is the science complex: the Reed Holl of Science and Strickler Plonetarium. At the top is the moon, representing ropid odvances in the space progrom in recent yeors, and portraits of Einstein and Newton, whose accomplishments hove strongly influenced the natural sciences.

In the sky just beneath the moon ore the words "In the beginning, God." These words also grace the lobby of the Science Auditorium. The organ pipes at the right side of the ponel continue into ponel Seven, thus uniting the sciences with the arts.

Panel Seven

The climax of the mural emphasizes the fine orts. At the center is the newly dedicated Larsen Fine Arts Center. To the left is the completed orgon pipe section begun in Panel Six, ond on orgon console with the musicol score for the "Hallelujoh Chorus" from Handel's "Messiah."

The sculpture of Dovid by Michelangelo depicts youth and energy as it did when it represented the city of Florence, Itoly, during the Renaissance. Above "Dovid" ore two singers representing vocal music. The stained glass window unites the areas of vocol ond instrumentol music. It is on exoct replica of the window in College Church of the Nazorene. Several instrumentolists ond a conductor ore shown just below the Lorsen Fine arts Center.

dition for St. Viator's College Campus

ivet was born out of a spiritual awakening that swept through East Central Illinois in the early 1900s. The lasting sult of these revivals and campmeetings was a focus of attention on the need for a Christian college.

forts started humbly enough with a small elementary school in 1907, which moved south to the new community of ivet in 1908.

grade school was only the beginning. On a Saturday in June of 1908, a group met at the Nesbitt farm at Olivet and t up a Board of Trustees to build a university. They appointed a committee to interview the philosopher and eologian A.M. Hills as the first president. In May of 1909 the trustees applied for a charter from the State of Illinois.

Birchard Gymnasium was a part of St. Viator's Campus before Olivet's possession.

Finishing of Williams Hall in 1949 — the first buidling constructed on Olivet's campus.

livet's founders had a beautiful concept of a campus with nine buildings in an pen oblong facing the highway. They had a concept of a liberal arts curriculum at took in the full scope ofa broad education. Their spiritual purposes were ystal clear. But, they lacked one major factor — a clearly identifiable constituen- who were able and willing to support the enterprise. Realizing their problem, e board turned to the Chicago Central District of the Church of the Nazarene r a sponsor.

)n July 23, 1912, a Saturday afternoon, with Dr. P.F. Bresee in the chair, the assembly voted to accept the Illinois Holiness University and to become its sponsor.

The consequences of this decision can only be imagined. First of all, a series of Nazarenes formed a succession of presidents. These included E.F. Walker, followed by, B. F. Haynes, two other Nazarene presidents in the succeeding years of this era were J.E.L. Moore and N.W. Sanford.

Without a doubt, 1912 was a critically important year because Olivet became a Nazarene school.

The years leading up to 1926 were a financial breakdown in the making, resulting finally in a vote by the trustees to file bankruptcy. Dr. T. W. Willingham stood on the steps of the administration building at the sale on June 1, 1926, and bought back the college. He became the next president.

In his memoirs, Dr. Carl S. McClain wrote, "The transfer of Olivet College from Olivet, Illinois to Bourbonnais must be recognized as the turning point in the progress of the institution. From an isolated village of 200, the school found itself in an industrial community of 40,000 on a commodious campus which seemed to invite expansion."

The enrollment on the new campus jumped from a little over 300 at the old campus to 426 at the new campus.

On April 16, 1963, classes were dismissed at 3:40 p.m. Twenty minutes later, a dark funnel cloud swooped down out of the sky and struck a path of havoc on the campus of Olivet. When all the damages had been added up, it was a matter of a $1,000,000 insurance settlement.

1982-83 school year brings us campus beautification projects — such as the new fine arts building and future plans. And a set off celebration year for many years to come.

Wisconsin! A Beautiful State of Mind

TO THE CLASS OF 1983

Congratulations and best wishes from your northern neighbors. While small in some ways, we have asked God to help us to be big in spirit, big in attitude, big in faith, and big in our prayers and support for Olivet. It has long been a personal conviction of mine that perhaps our one great last bastion of hope for our world is the Christian college campus. The greatest spiritual moves that I have witnessed have been on the campus of Olivet and among our youth. We in Wisconsin are grateful for "our Olivet" where the spirit-filled life is taught, practiced, and upheld as the norm of Christian living. As you leave the campus you will find that the "spirit of ONC" will become more meaningful as the years pass by.

What is an Aurora?

It's not easy going through life working for a yearbook entitled Aurora.

You have to constantly spell the word for others who attempt to put too many o's or not enough u' s in it.

You have to start telling them all the history about the book and then you realize that you never did tell them what an AURORA was.

But besides the spelling I really don't think anyone really cares what an AURORA is besides the yearbook that they paid for.

The true definition, that it is a radiant beam from the atmosphere that occurs sporadically on the hemisphere is usually accepted with a blank stare. There is another definition though, it is a dawn or awakening. Even though we're in our seventieth year as an instituted book, we begin each year and see each year as a dawn or new awakening.

If I had my life to live over again,
I'd try to make more mistakes next time.
I would relax, I would limber up, I would be sillier than I have been this trip.
I know of very few things I would take seriously. I would take more trips.
I would be crazier. I would climb more mountains, swim more rivers, and watch more sunsets.
I would do more walking and looking.
I would eat more ice cream and less beans.
I would have more actual troubles and fewer imaginary ones.
I wouldn't live sensibly hour after hour, day after day. Oh, I've had my moments, and if I had to do it over again I'd have more of them.
In fact, I'd try to have nothing else, just moments, one after another, instead of living so many years ahead each day.
If I had my life to life over I would start barefooted earlier in the spring and stay that way later in the fall.
I would go places, do things, and travel lighter.
I would play hookey more.
I wouldn't make such good grades, except by accident.
I would ride on more merry-go-rounds.
I'd pick more daisies.
